

YSU PGRG NEWS

What's Up with this

By: G. R. Walker

A newsletter launching

This newsletter is going to be published hopefully once a term, approximately three times a year. Contributions will be accepted from all of those affiliated with the PGRG at YSU, faculty, students and staff. Dr. Walker will be the managing editor so any contributions should be sent to him. As we accomplish more hopefully the newsletter will expand. Issues will only be published if there is enough to report. For more information contact Dr. Walker at x7177

The P/GRG is the lead group in a proposal for a forming a Center for Applied Chemical Biology. Dr. Chester Cooper would be the center director. Also the center would be composed of two main groups; the Proteomics/ Genomics Research Group (P/GRG) and the Drug Discovery Group (DDG). Dr. Gary Walker is identified as the P/GRG group director and Dr. Peter Norris as the DDG group director. The proposed center would be a multimillion dollar effort involving over thirteen faculty and staff. This center will pool a vast amount of talent on the YSU campus benefiting students and the community at large. It

Highlights of the P/GRG Groups Meetings

This term has seen the successful institution of weekly group meetings. Students have presented four papers. The time has been useful in forming the group and I hope in the future to see an expansion of the discussion and utilization of the problems solving power of the group. I want to thank everyone for their efforts to attend the meetings. The schedule through March can be seen at the right.

The Pinhead Awards

The Pinhead of the Week Award is given those individuals that have done something really dumb in the lab of which they should have known better. It is all in good fun. So far, Garrett Rowe, Drs. Gary Walker and Roland Reisen have been awarded the prize.
